November 2024

Dear Parents/Carers,

Welcome back! How time flies! The countdown to Christmas begins!

Lots of exciting days ahead for our children in school.

New class themes are underway and home learning will be sent out this week. Our website explains our curriculum in more detail and includes learning for each year group. Take a look!

Ask your child about their new theme – how can you support their learning at home?

Green Day for Khia - Thank you to all who donated on the last day of half term for the Mc Donald House who have provided support for Khia's family on his road to recovery. Well done and thank you.

Our Halloween Disco tonight - The children will have a wonderful time at the disco tonight with games and prizes to be won! We will be hosting a Valentines Disco for the juniors in the New Year. Thank you for supporting the school.

Enjoy, Believe, Achieve Awards

We are now 4 years into our EBA awards with some children already receiving stickers for their work towards an award. Our work has been celebrated in the Local Authority for being a leading primary school introducing a life skills curriculum that is unique to Adswood.

Reading

We have purchased a range of non-fiction books for our reading stations around school thank you to your kind donations from the Summer fair back in June. These stations are now clearly labelled and organised and are being used by the children to aid learning in class and at home.

Subject Leaders in our school

We have staff who lead a subject in school and work with other staff to ensure our children receive the best possible education in that subject through their primary years. If you wish to know any more about our subject's please take a look at our website where you will see detailed information about how we teach these subjects in our school.
